QUALIFICATIONS

Mr. Douglas began his career with The Douglas Company in 2011 as a Project Coordinator. He led teams to put in place over $100 million in various types of construction and earned promotions up to the role of Senior Project Manager. Prior to serving as Executive Vice President, Bruce was Vice President of Preconstruction, leading our estimating and business development teams.

As Executive Vice President, Bruce leads the Construction, Estimating, and Business Development teams for all Midwest Operations, initiating client engagement early in the project development process. He sets projects on a path for success by providing expertise on cost, schedule, logistics, constructability, and other key factors. Bruce also oversees all construction operations, ensuring budgets and schedules are met, and projects are delivered with exceptional quality. Bruce is responsible for the day-to-day oversight of the entire Holland, Ohio office, ensuring a collaborative approach to leading projects from the design phase through the construction phase.

Mr. Douglas currently serves as a member of The Douglas Company's Executive Committee, establishing company policies and participating in the development of company strategies and objectives.
